$1.4 Billion Bill Expected to Pass State Senate

This is the week, barring complications, that will see the State Senate pass and send to the Governor for his signature the House-approved $1.4 billion budget bill providing for operation of State Government services during the next two years.

This also is the week for which a hearing was set for 10 a. m. Tuesday on strip-mining control bills and a postponed hearing was scheduled for 10 a. m. Thursday on proposed Sunday-closing legislation.

With the 1964 regular legislative session two-thirds completed, this is the week prior to the scheduled March 5 march on Frankfort by proponents of passage of a civil rights bill before adjournment March 30.

H.B. 222, the budget bill, passed the House by a vote of 95 to 5 last Wednesday. For the first time in many years, all members of the House were recorded as voting on a biennial appropriations bill.

The measure was given its first reading in the Senate Friday after a favorable report by the Appropriations Committee headed by Senator Casper Gardner, Owensboro, Democratic Majority floor leader.

Introduced in the House by Representative Gus Sheehan, Jr., Covington attorney, was a bill to reappoint Kentucky's seven congressional districts on a more nearly equal population basis.

The measure would combine Jefferson County's "A" District with river counties to the north to form a new Fourth Congressional District. It would leave the City of Louisville and Jefferson County districts "B" and "C" as the Third District.

Introduction of the bill co-sponsored by other Northern Kentucky legislators followed a United States Supreme Court ruling that congressional districts throughout the country should be as equal as practicable in population.

Also introduced in the House Thursday was a bill whereby "any public school district or system may provide for students and faculty free time whereby the students may meet with the faculty . . . for a devotional period." The bill was offered by Representative Gether Irick, Pike County.

Referred back to committee for amendment in the House was a bill to provide a pension of $500 a month to former governors. Representative Mitchell Denham, Maysville, Democratic majority floor leader, and others said only former governors in need should be given pensions.

Senator Vernon McGinty, Louisville Republican, presented a bill which would restrict the incorporation of new cities. A requirement for incorporation would be that the proposed city have a minimum population of 750 residents. The minimum now is 125.

Under a bill drafted by the State Health Department and introduced in the House, creation of a State air pollution commission is advocated. The commission would be empowered to investigate complaints from certain cities not having local commissions.

Two bills passed by the House and sent to the Senate pertain to elections. One would keep polls open until 6 p. m. instead of 5 p. m. Another would increase the maximum pay of election officers from $10 to $12 a day.

Another House bill approved would relieve from liability for damages any physician giving emergency treatment at the scene of an accident.

R. G. Eversole Attends Meet In New Jersey

R. G. Eversole, Superintendent of the Hazard City Schools, returned Thursday, February 20th from attending the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, New Jersey. This organization was formed in 1885 and had 30,000 in attendance at the convention to celebrate their centennial.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, United States Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and Karl E. Mundt, and Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency were the chief general session speakers.

Besides sectional meetings on every conceivable subject in the educational field with panels of experts, there was a vast exhibit area of some five acres with more than 1,000 exhibit booths and thousands of competing products on display.

The Philadelphia Public Schools presented a one hundredth anniversary concert on Saturday, February 13th, and on Wednesday the exhibitors presented Jane Powell and the "The Top Twenty" in a musical program.

Frances Lewis, 22, Hurt in Car Wreck

A Jeff resident, Mrs. Frances Lewis, 22, was hospitalized Saturday from injuries received when her car went over an embankment on Highway 15 near Jeff. The car, a 1963 Ford Sedan, was a total loss.

According to State Police, Mrs. Lewis was traveling towards Jeff when she struck ice on a sharp curve and lost control of the car. The vehicle traveled over the steep embankment, rolled over once and came to a stop 65 feet from the pavement.

Mrs. Lewis was taken to Mount Mary Hospital where she was treated for bruises and lacerations. Her condition is reported as Good.

Dr. J. W. Oswald To Be Guest Speaker at V.F.W.

Arrangements are complete for Hazard's 12th Annual Civic Night to be held Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 6:30 p.m., at the V. F. W. Club.

Dr. John W. Oswald, president of the University of Kentucky, will be guest speaker.

This annual affair is sponsored by local civic clubs and creates a great deal of interest in the naming of the "Man of the Year" and "Young Man of the Year."

Tickets for civic night are $2.50 and can be purchased from members of the local civic clubs.

Pictured here are Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Williams at their home at Bonnyman. Mr. Williams, who is 85, qualifies for the Hazard Herald's "Over 80" special which entitles him to receive The Herald Free. In order to take advantage of this special offer, Mr. Williams has written a short biography of his life which is printed below.

Brief History of I. H. Williams, Octogenarian of Bonnyman

By I. H. Williams

I was born August 5, 1879, the son of James Williams and Siller Campbell Williams. My father was the son of Rev. Sam Williams; my mother was the daughter of Samuel Campbell, who lived at the Mouth of Sams Branch, near Napfor. I was reared on Grapevine Creek.

My parents were blessed with twelve children, four older than me. I have two brothers, Colson and E. D., both of Lexington and two sisters, Mrs. Louise Owens and Mrs. Debbie Robbins, both of Waynesburg.

On December 2, 1902, I married Mary Duff, the daughter of V. E. Duff, of Chavies. We had ten children, six of whom are still living. Living are four daughters—Mrs. Marie McIntosh of Hazard, Mrs. Malta Gibson and Mrs. Pearl Hale of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Gertrude Brewer of Ansted, West Virginia; and two sons—Jack Williams of Bonnyman and Florice Williams of California. We have 23 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren. My first wife died July 11, 1931.

I met and married Mrs. Besie Deaton Williams on June 9, 1932. She was the widow of Chester Williams. She had four children at home, making a total of 11 children in the two families.

Both of my wives and I belonged to the Regular Baptist Church, of which I have been a member for the past 45 years. I was baptized by Rev. Irvin Eversole and Rev. Garrett Caldwell.

My second wife and her husband had eight children: Aster Williams and Frank Allen of Blue Diamond, Cassie Neace of Watts, Asby Williams of Dayton, Irwin Williams of Cambridge, Mass. and Lester Williams of Indianapolis. She has 53 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

Our home is very lonesome now that all our children have left to make their own homes but we feel a lot of satisfaction in that we have raised them to the best of our ability, with God's help.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

In a recent telephone conversation with Mr. Williams we found that he had been a consistent reader of The Hazard Herald for many years. Due to his age, 85, he qualified for the Herald's "Over 80" Special which states "that if a person is over 80 and will write his life story for publication in the Herald he will be added to the Hazard Herald subscription list FREE of charge."

Hazard Shriners To Meet Feb. 28

Hazard Shrine Club President, Bill Perry, announced that the next regular meeting of the club will be held at the VFW Club at 7 p. m., February 28. This meeting is open to the ladies and a meal will be served before the meeting.

President Perry stated that on March 5, at 6 p. m., W. M. Wollum, Oleika Temple Coordinator will give a banquet in Lexington for all Shrine Club Officers "I would like for all the Hazard Shrine Officers to attend this event," stated Perry.

The secretary, Ernest Minnich, stated that the organization now has 74 members' dues for 1964.

"Blue's Place" Destroyed by Fire

A fire Sunday morning destroyed the two-story building known as "Blue's Place" at Sassafras.

Mr. Marlan Everage, owner of the building, and his family, live on the second floor over the business.

The building was a total loss, but no injuries were reported.

Hazard P. T. A. Sponsors Arts-Crafts Guild Train; Second Cross-State Visit

The Kentucky Guild Train comes back to Hazard this Thursday, after an absence of nearly two and a half years. It will be located at L&N Depot next to Home Lumber Company, and will stay through Tuesday of next week. During school hours it will be visited by groups from the city and county schools, and other civic units such as boy scouts and girl scouts. After 3:00 o'clock on school days, and on Saturday and Sunday, it is open to the public. Admission is always free.

A traveling museum of the arts and crafts, the Guild Train is one of the projects undertaken by the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen to improve the quality of craft production, and to spark an interest in the arts and crafts movement in Kentucky. The Train is operated in cooperation with the Division of Arts and Crafts of the State Department of Commerce.

Its visit to Hazard is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, Mrs. Joe Duncan, president, is arranging the visits of school groups so that no more than forty students tour the Train at one time. Each group is given a gallery talk explaining the exhibit, and a demonstration of one or more craft tools in the demonstration area. At least thirty minutes is allowed for each group.

A new exhibit, "Design in Kentucky," shows furniture, paintings, sculpture, decorative articles and useful craft items, four eras in the history of the Commonwealth. These are placed in room arrangements, so they impress upon the viewer how objects widely varying in style entered into the lives of the people who used them. There is a room from the pioneer period, another of Shaker origin, and a final one representing contemporary production.

The demonstration car contains craft work by members of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. Skilled craftsmen show how to use a potter's wheel, or a loom, or any of the various other tools and machines carried in this section of the Train.

John Dillehay, who has been Train Director since its opening in Hazard in September 1961, says the craft demonstrations are the feature most visitors like most. "The creative process has fascinated people from the beginning of time," Dillehay remarked. "Watching a potter take a formless lump of common clay and form a beautiful shape within seconds is the most popular demonstration offered on the Kentucky Guild Train."

In the summer of 1961, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad gave two cars to the State of Kentucky, and the State commissioned the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen to convert these cars into a traveling exhibition hall. It was in Hazard, in the fall of that year, that the Guild Train was first shown to the public. In a formal ribbon-cutting ceremony, Governor Bert Combs launched the Train, which, after showing for several days in Hazard, started on its tour of the state.

Since then, it has criss-crossed Kentucky many times, going as far west as Fulton, as far south as Middlesboro, and as far north as Covington. Over 150,000 people have visited it. Its educational value to artists and craftsmen as well as the general public has received world-wide attention, as it was featured in Voice of America broadcasts to the European nations. As Dillehay puts it, "The Guild Train is designed to provide a museum, for the length of its stay, to any community in Kentucky served by a railroad."

The Train is open to the public this Thursday and Friday from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. On Saturday its hours are 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., and on Sunday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Next Monday and Tuesday, the public may view it from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. In announcing these hours, Mrs. Duncan emphasized that there is no admission charge, either to students or to the general public.

APPALACHIA PROBLEMS STUDIED

Self-Help Is Goal War On Poverty

Sure, Appalachia needs help, and in some ways the help must come from the outside, but the Appalachian people themselves must do the job.

And the best way to start is to take a good, hard, long, honest look at themselves and their mountainous countryside, so beset with problems, but so rich in opportunity.

These two thoughts, respectively expressed by the executive secretary of the Council of the Southern Mountains and a distinguished authoress and lecturer, keyed today's first annual Tennessee Regional meeting of the Southern Mountain Council at Oak Ridge's new Daniel 'Arthur Rehabilitation Center.

'Dispute With One Another'

P. F. Ayer, Berea, Ky., executive secretary of the council, opened the meeting by telling some 250 Council members that the Southern Appalachian area has the choice of becoming "a partner with, or a ward of, the nation."

Wilma Dykeman, authoress, lecturer and columnist, wound up the meeting with a plea to those still living in the mountainous area to have the courage "to dispute with one another" over the area's problems and how best to remedy them.

The council defines "Appalachia" as the mountainous area generally between Birmingham, Ala., and Morgan-

Council Has Grown

The Council, now headquartered at Berea, was founded 52 years ago, mainly to make sure the folkways and crafts of the area were preserved. But now it has become much more than that, helping to co-ordinate the studies and secure action to help the area, much of which is decaying due to shifting economic conditions and lack of transportation.

Appalachia is probably the main target of President John F. Kennedy's announced "War on Poverty."

Between the two main talks, the meeting split into 5 discussion groups. O. A. K. Ridge's Dr. Paul Spray headed the health group; Milton Ogle, Berea, Ky., resource development; Ayer, education; Miss Dykeman, youth, and Dr. William Cole, head of the U-T sociology department, welfare.

Contract Let For School Building

On Friday, February 21st four bids were opened on the building of the Viper School. The low bidder was Nashlund Construction Co. of Cincinnati, $216,000 with Collins Construction of Hindman, second with a bid of $217,500. Other bidders were Johnson Construction Co. of Ashland and Boggs Construction Co. of Middlesboro.

According to Supt. Dennis Wooton, construction will get under way as soon as bonds and other minor technicalities are cleared away.

This will be the third modern school under construction in the county system. Buckhorn building is now being constructed, and also one at Big Creek, will be occupied in the near future. Nashlund Construction Co. is building the other two schools.

The Viper school was burned in the latter part of '62 and the children have been housed in temporary quarters since that time, thus the letting of this contract will be warmly welcomed by the people in the Viper Area.

Local Missionary Gives Graphic Description of Strife In Congo

A former Baptist missionary with the Bethana Baptist Church at Cornettsville and now serving in the strife-torn Congo in Africa has written to a Perry County minister a graphic letter of her experiences during recent violence there.

Miss Betty Parks, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, lived and worked in Perry County for two years before being assigned to duty in the Congo in 1960.

She still has many friends here, among them the Rev. and Mrs. Reevis Clark of the Bethana Baptist Church.

Her letter, which is reprinted below, was addressed to the Clarks. It is a graphic description of the violence and bloodshed that erupted in the Congo this month which forced Miss Parks' evacuation from remote Kikwit to the nation's capital, Leopoldville.

Here is her letter:

Monday, February 3, 1964
Dear Reevis, Lois, and Friends:
First off, I want to thank the Lord for the assurance of His presence with us during this unexpected emergency and the very real peace He gives.

Our area - Baptist Mid-Missions - was right in the center of this uprising. We had no idea that it was so close to us - even our own village people - nor that this group could be so well-organized and extensive. Let me give you an outline of activities:

Jan. 15 - Wednesday - A wounded terrorist was brought to our dispensary for treatment of a leg wound. Terrorists and soldiers had met in combat about 10 kilometers (about 6 miles) from us. Local police (12 km. other side of us) happened to be at Iwungu to collect taxes from village people. They attempted to arrest this group of terrorists without success, and then sent word to the soldiers to come search for them. This put our secteur police and officials "in bad" with the terrorists, and so about the 18th they fled to Idiofa where they felt they would have more protection since there is an army camp there. In subsequent attacks on Idiofa, about 150 state people from Idiofa and elsewhere were killed by the terrorists; others were evacuated by Air Brouse planes to Kikwit and then to Leo.

At the time of this incident (terrorists coming to our dispensary) we were not alarmed since these terrorists were strangers to us and according to our people - to them too. So we felt this was not in our midst. School classes and activities continued as usual, but there was some tension among the village people and school kids when the soldiers came to make investigations. We could not understand why they should seem to fear the soldiers more than the terrorists.

Jan. 21 - Tues. Small bridge at Catholic station of Lachini between us at Iwungu and secteur headquarters destroyed 1 1/2 miles beyond us.

Jan. 22 - Wed. Larger bridge about six miles from us on main road to Kikwit destroyed. Any possibility of flight by vehicle cancelled. However, we still did not realize the seriousness of the situation. Later, the terrorists chopped up the road about every 100 meters to prevent soldiers from coming in.

Jan. 23 - Thurs. The Belgian priest at Lachini was taken captive by a group of roving terrorists and marched several kilometers to another village in the area. Local village people, seeing this, followed and demanded his release, and said they did not want their missionaries touched. One of the village chiefs is reportedly to have gone to the camp of Mulele Pierre, requesting that groups of "jeunesse" be forbidden to march on other villages, but that "la jeunesse" of each village be responsible for its village. This was agreed upon. The priest was returned to his post. And because of this arrangement, we feel roving terrorists hesitated to come on our mission. Alto, our local "jeunesse" guarded our houses at night, and were our protectors, along with our local Christians.

Jan. 24 - Friday Missionary Aviation Fellowship (MAF) plane flew over about 3 p.m. and dropped note asking if we wanted to be evacuated: if so, to sit on ground; if we wanted to stick it out - to put hands on hips; if there was no sign of trouble - to wave hands over our heads. We put hands on hips. We knew there was disturbance in the area but our people were calm and we were all getting along very well. There seemed to be no justifiable reason to evacuate, nor indication locally that it was necessary.

Jan. 26 - Sunday MAF flew over about 11 a.m. - dropped note. This is essence of that note: "Prepare for immediate evacuation by helicopter - everyone. No question asked, Irene is dead."

Irene was the sister of Mrs. Robert Griings with us at Iwungu. This was a real shock. We

Ayer said a "symptom of an insidious disease potentially fatal to democracy" is spreading: "the willing habit of utter dependence."

To Be On TV

"When people fail to exercise their responsibilities and intelligence, the Government is forced to take control," he said, and added that Appalachia inhabitants should never "ask anyone else, 'What shall we do?' It's up to the citizens themselves to find out what to do."

"We need Federal help, but we must not let this be a substitute for things we ought to do ourselves."

"Miss Dykeman — that's her pen name, she's really Mrs. James Stokely of Newport — said that in order to face our problems squarely, 'We must realize we cannot afford the in difference or indeed, the difference, to dispute.'"

"We ought to have frank and open dispute. If we don't, our minds can't grow."

What Is Attitude?

Miss Dykeman scored both Miss citizens and local govern ments for their lack of interest and knowledge about their communities.

"How many of you have visited the courts in your towns, to see how justice is being passed out? How do people in your county die? I was ashamed to find out recently how many tuberculosis deaths there are in my home town. What is your attitude toward local schools and P-TA's?"

"Too often, the function of a county government seems to be spent on how to evade its responsibilities instead of how to meet them."

Miss Dykeman said "the eyes of the world are focused on Appalachia. All over the world, it's known that there is poverty in America." She added that it was up to American themselves to eradicate the awful "pockets of poverty" that infect the mountains.

The doctor noticed that the patient's hands kept shaking during the physical exam.

"You drink a lot, don't you?" the doctor said.

"No, sir," the patient said, "I spill most of it."

ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF HAZARD RELATING TO THE COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE AND OTHER WASTE MATTER AND MATERIAL.

WHEREAS, the City of Hazard maintains a Garbage Dump outside the corporate limits of Hazard to which garbage and waste material is transported and there disposed of, and;

WHEREAS, garbage and other objectionable waste matter is often disposed of within the city limits by being dumped into ravines, branches, vacant lots and on the sides of streets and alleys, creating an unsanitary condition which is expensive to correct, and;

WHEREAS, the city maintains a Garbage Collection Service for the benefit of the citizens of Hazard;

NOW, be it resolved by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Hazard that all citizens of the City of Hazard living in private residences, on streets and alleys which are accessible to the city's Garbage Collection Service be and the same are hereby directed to place all garbage in suitable garbage cans and place said cans along the said streets and alleys of the city at places where they can be reached by the city's trucks and other equipment used in the Garbage Collection Service; that each patron of this service may use more than one garbage can for this purpose when necessary; that each apartment be treated and considered as one residence and the people living in each apartment use and maintain one garbage can, placing it where it can be reached by the city's employees.

Be it further resolved that the charge for collecting garbage from private homes and apartments be $1.00 for each home and each apartment; that the charge for said garbage service rendered to hotels, restaurants, hospitals, public buildings and other business places and establishments be determined by contract between the City of Hazard and owners, proprietors, or management of said business places or institutions.

Be it further resolved that all charges for garbage service pursuant to this ordinance be added to the monthly water bills.

Done at a regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Hazard, this the 20th day of February, 1964.

This shall become effective when signed by the Mayor and the Clerk of the City of Hazard, or by two Commissioners and the Clerk and recorded.

Claims for Refunds On 1963 Taxes Must Be Filed

State Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett has reminded farmers that all claims for refund of tax paid on agricultural gasoline used in 1963 must be filed with the Revenue Department by March 30.

Farmers possessing refund permits are refunded 90 percent on the tax paid on gasoline used in unlicensed vehicles strictly for agricultural purposes. Refund permits may be obtained by application using forms furnished by the Department of Revenue, Frankfort. Application must be filed at least 15 days prior to the purchase of gasoline on which a refund is to be claimed.

Refunds may be requested any time during the calendar year in which purchases were made, and which 90 days following the close of the calendar year in which purchases were made, Luckett explained.

Refund gasoline cannot be used in any licensed vehicle. Luckett pointed out, and said any violation of this regulation will force cancellation of the user's refund permit.

Contribution For Foundation Fund For Crippled

Hazard Shrine Club President, Bill Perry, announced today that Charlie Johnson, owner of Johnson Tire Service, made a contribution to start the Charlie Johnson Foundation Fund under the direction of Ernest Minnich, Bill Perry and George Anderson. The foundation money is to be used to pay the expenses of crippled children to the crippled children's hospitals.

President Perry also stated that if any other person would like to contribute to this fund to give your contribution to one of the shriners listed above.

He concluded by stating that in any community in this area, if there is a crippled child who would like information on how to enter the hospital in Lexington where the child may be helped to live a normal life, to see any shriner in your community.

State Plumbing Law Safeguards 90% of Kentucky Population

The State Plumbing Law, Regulation, and Code now safeguards the health of approximately 90 percent of Kentucky's population, Eugene F. Perkins, director of the State Department of Health's plumbing program, announced today.

Perkins said this figure has been reached since the first of January with the addition of Columbia, Elkton, Franklin, and Greensburg to the list of cities which have adopted the law as city ordinance. A total of 20 cities and 36 of the most populous counties are now under the law, Perkins said.

"The purpose of this law is to eliminate poor quality workmanship and materials and installation of improper plumbing, which may create a focal center of disease endangering public health," Perkins said. "Proper plumbing is an economic safeguard to property owners, as well as one of the best methods for preventing serious health hazards in a community," he said.

To carry out the plumbing code, the staff members review and make necessary recommendations on plans of all new plumbing installations and alteration of old installations, issue plumbing construction permits after plans are approved, and make inspections of plumbing installations at three different stages of construction.

The plumbing program also is responsible for the examination and licensing of plumbers and plumbing contractors.

Perkins said cities or counties not covered by the plumbing law are invited to meet with representatives of the plumbing program to study the possibilities of adopting the code. "The future short range plans of the program is to include five additional counties per year," he said.

Automatically covered by the revised plumbing law, passed by the 1960 General Assembly, are all 25 Kentucky counties with cities greater than 8,000 population and all public buildings in the state.

The legislation is written so county boards of health can adopt the code as a regulation for their counties regardless of the size of any city in the county. Perkins said 11 counties had enacted the plumbing law as such a regulation. City councils may adopt the law as an ordinance.

Kentucky's first plumbing law was enacted in 1930 for the five counties then containing cities of the first or second class. This law was essentially the same as the present law, providing for the licensing of master and journeyman plumbers and the use of specified, approved materials and proper design.

LADY WHO NOW HEARS
AGAIN TELLS OF
"THE SHEER JOY OF HEARING"

The other day Beltone received a "fan letter" from a lady who had recently been fitted with Beltone hearing glasses.

What was it like for her — being able to hear again after years of silence? Here are her own words:

"It was as if I had been away for a long time and had returned home to a delightful housewarming... I was tempted to stop strangers on the street and ask them to say something just for the sheer joy of hearing!"

Yes, hearing again can be "sheer joy." And it's one of the rich rewards of my work with Beltone that I'm able to bring this joy to so many people.

Chances are you, too, can hear clearly again if you've suffered a hearing loss. Nowadays, almost every such loss can be corrected.

Why not drop in soon to discuss your hearing problem... without any cost or obligation? See the amazingly small hearing aids Beltone has available to help you.

Or, I'll be glad to come and see you. Just give me a call or drop me a note... and we'll arrange a visit.

March 2-7 Set For Medic-Alert-Week In Kentucky

March 2-7 has been designated by Governor Edward T. Breathitt as the first "Medic-Alert Week" in Kentucky.

His proclamation was sponsored by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, which is supporting Medic-Alert Foundation projects. Mrs. Adron Doran, Morehead, is Federation president.

The proclamation cited that "over 40 million Americans have hidden medical problems which may not be recognized in an accident or emergency. Medic-Alert Foundation is the only charitable, non-profit organization in the United States which works in behalf of these individuals and many lives have been saved through its efforts."

The Medic-Alert Foundation was founded five years ago by Dr. Marion C. Collins, Turlock, Calif., after the near death of his teenage daughter because no one knew she was allergic to antitetanus serum. He devised a silver bracelet for her with the words, "allergic to tetanus anti-toxin," engraved on the back.

Baptist Athletes To Speak At Conference Mar 6 At Morehead

Two well-known Baptist athletes will speak at a conference for Baptist students at Morehead College the weekend of March 6-8.

They are Jerry Stovall, half-back on the St. Louis Cardinals professional football team, and Terry Mobley, guard on the University of Kentucky basketball squad. Mobley is active in Baptist campus activities, and Stovall was a leader in the Baptist Student Union while attending Louisiana State University.

The meeting on March 6-8 is an annual spring conference which is expected to attract more than five hundred students from nineteen college campuses throughout Kentucky.

A varied program is planned including basketball and table tennis tournaments, a banquet honoring the winning teams, Bible study, discussions, inspirational messages, and a sacred concert.

Rev. Jesse Hatfield of Pleasure Ridge Park will conduct the Bible study. Mr. Jay Wilkey will conduct the concert by the Southern Baptist Semnary Male Chorale of Louisville. Other speakers include Dr. John Killinger of Kentucky Southern College, Mr. B. H. Hornbuckle of Southern Baptist Seminary, and Mr. Tom Corts of Georgetown College.

A Letter From AUNT MAGGIE

Box 495,
Hazard, Kentucky

Dear Jenny:
I'm glad you liked my recipe for a good husband. With it upon your mirror I guess I don't need to worry about you. Along with that recipe don't forget to pray that the Lord will lead you to the "one and only" He has for you, and I'll do it, but don't get impatient.

You mentioned working in the kitchen there at the college and how you hated washing the dishes.

I used to hate doing the dishes, too, and then I thought I could do something about it. I remembered a verse in Colossians 3:18 that says, "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the father by him." So me, this meant that I could do the dishes in the name of the Lord Jesus and if I did it that way I couldn't help it do it joyfully.

"Could something so dull and prosaic actually become joyful?" I wondered, and decided to make it joyful. As I put my hands into those lovely hot suds, I realize I hadn't had to carry in the water from a well, my mother had to do, nor at the water on the stove, or make the soap that cut the grease so well. As I began to wash away the grease and grime and put the shining shins on the shelf, all clean and ready for the next meal, I was happy that I was able to stand there and do that little chore. I know people around me who still have to carry their water in from a spring or well and heat it on the stove, but I know that the Lord can give them the strength and joy for their task too.

Washing dishes at College is much more tedious than for family, but try to do it in spirit and you'll find the joy welling up without much effort on your part. Joy is catching too, and you'll have that whole bunch of students who work with you in the same line of mind. Why not try it. I got so joyful I wrote a poem about it.

Washing dishes used to be a chore that plagued and bothered me. I fret and frown and pout and stew at there they were, still left to do.

One day my Lord said, 'Look

my dear,
Do this chore for me, with cheer.
Be joyful, pray and sing to me
And then you'll have the victory.'

So now I praise Him as I wash
Each dish and cup and spoon.
And when I've put them on the shelf
It's hard to wait 'till noon."

Love,
Aunt Maggie

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Madden

Mullins - Madden Wedding Vows Said In Indiana

The marriage of Miss Mary Jane Mullins to Mr. William B. Madden was recently solemnized at the First Baptist Church of Scottsburg, Indiana with the Rev. William E. Heck officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Mullins is the daughter of Mrs. Lena J. Mullins of Berea, Ky. and the late William G. Mullins.

Mr. Madden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Madden of Scipio, Indiana, who were former residents of Hazard.

The bride wore a white street-length sheath gown of embossed effect with an overskirt of netting to match her fingertip veil. A lace and pearl half-crown held her veil. She carried a cascade of baby pink rose buds accented with white carnations and pink and white streamers.

Mrs. Henry Gilbert, the bride's aunt, served as matron of honor. She wore an emerald green taffeta street-length dress and carried white carnations tipped green and sprinkled with gold.

Junior bridesmaid was Donna Gilbert who wore a taffeta dress of aqua and carried white carnations tipped and streamered in aqua. Marilyn Gilbert, flower girl, wore a white satin dress and carried white and pink carnations. David E. Madden, brother of the groom, served as best man. William McQueen, Sup. of Music, State Dept. of Education, Frankfort, Ky., served as organist.

The bride is a senior at Eastern Kentucky State College at Richmond, Ky.

Mr. Madden is a graduate of Eastern and is presently teaching at Charlestown Township High School, Charlestown, Ind. Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gilbert, 889 South First Street, Scottsburg, Indiana.

Allais Homemakers Hold Feb. Meeting At Adkins Home

Allais Homemakers Club held its February meeting on the 11th at 7:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Florine Adkins. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lillie Fletcher, after which devotional was read by Mrs. Ralph Bartlette.

Each member answered roll call by giving the name of a President. Mrs. R. M. Elam read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Ann Caudill gave the treasurer's report.

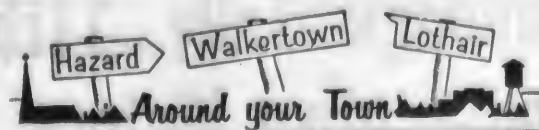

The fairy basket was passed and each member placed a dollar in the basket and received a gift. This money was put into the treasury.

A very interesting book report on "The Listener" was given by Mrs. Lillie Fletcher, who also delivered the lesson on Kitchen Space Saving to the club members. Some shelves that can be used in cabinets to conserve space and provide neatness and order in the kitchen were displayed.

The club voted on changing the date of the meetings and decided that the Homemakers will meet on the second Thursday of each month instead of the second Tuesday, as has been the procedure in previous years.

Refreshments of pecan pie, ice cream, and coffee were served to the following members: Mesdames C. B. Caudill, Ralph Bartlette, Clay Donahue, Lillie Fletcher, Floyd Hurst, John Grundy, R. M. Elam, Bernice Sizemore, Jack Caudill, Hillard Barnett, Bartle Melton, and the hostess, Mrs. Florine Adkins and her mother, Mrs. A. Y. Bartlett.

The March meeting will be held on the Thursday, March 12 at 7:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hillard Barnett.

Don Smith, son of Mrs. Myrtle Smith of Hazard, has accepted a position as counselor at the Indiana State Prison in Michigan City, Ind. His wife, the former Carol Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd of London, has accepted a position with the Citizens Bank in Michigan City.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Leedy and children, Mary Bryan, Bruce and Julia, were in Radford, Va., last week visiting their daughter Miss Sally Leedy, who is a Freshman at Radford College there.

Miss Dianne Robinson, Fort Knox, was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Maple Street. She had as her guest, Miss Sharon Poore, also of Fort Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick McIntyre and son, Jeffrey Lloyd, of Middletown, Ohio, spent the weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre.

Miss Ann Combs, a student at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, spent the weekend at home with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Combs, Woodland Park.

Mrs. K. H. Gilbert spent the weekend in Lexington. She was joined there by her son, Mr. Kenny Gilbert, of Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maggard spent the weekend in Tennessee, visiting their son, Elmer Maggard, who is a Freshman at the University of the South there.

Circle Studies Book of Romans

The Golden Circle Sunday School Class of Pottery Memorial Church met Tuesday, February 11, at the home of Mrs. John Campbell.

A study on the Book of Romans was begun. Discussion of Chapter I was led by Mrs. Ralph Moore.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Campbell, and co-hostess, Mrs. Farris Erwin, to the following members: Mrs. George Anderson, Jr., Mrs. Porter Sage, Mrs. Ernestine Arnold, Mrs. Robert Muncy, Mrs. Ben Roll, Mrs. Sam Burke, Mrs. Eugene Brashear, Mrs. Farris Erwin, Mrs. Clarence Runyon, Mrs. Lawrence Sizemore, Mrs. Hayden Guffey, Mrs. Denver Campbell, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Ralph Moore. Bulldogs Tally 11th Consecutive Victory; Defeat McDowell 71-65

By: Connie Elam

The "Golden" Hazard Bulldogs, gliding along Victory Highway, tallied their eleventh consecutive win at Wheelwright Friday night when they passed by the McDowell Dare Devils, 71-65.

The first quarter proved to be a see-saw battle, but McDowell ended it by perching on the higher level of a 16-15 score.

In the second period the game ran along about the same route, but the Bulldogs edged out in front, 32-28 at the half-way mark.

The canines held a short lead throughout the third frame; and, in rounding the turn they widened the gap, 57-44.

In the final lap the Dare Devils closed in on a 15-point Bulldog lead. However, the Bulldogs managed to cross the finish line with a 71-65 victory.

Howie took high-scoring honors for the Dare Devire, with 18 points. He was followed by Hall, who got 16; Hopkins got 15; Patton got 11; and McCoy got five points. As a team, McDowell connected on 67 per cent of its free throws.

Joe Davis, Hazard's much improved player, stood in the top-scoring spotlight, as he netted 19 points. Close behind was Chester Rose, the hook-shooting center, who got 18 points. Freddy Hogg and Jim Rose stood on even terms, as each dropped in 14 points. Kenny Tate and Houston Hogg contributed four and two points, respectively.

This week schedules the last regular season games for Hazard before tournament time. On Tuesday night the "Shack-Men" will journey up the road to take on the "Ritter-Men" of Whitesburg. Earlier in the season Hazard trounced the Yellowjackets, 86-54. The canines will return home on Saturday night, after five games.

64 scheduled basketball season on the road, to close their 1963-64 season.

With the Cordia Lions.

Navajos Defeat B'horn Wildcats

By Arlis Fields

The M. C. Napier Navajos displayed their biggest offensive punch of the season last night, as the Redskins rolled over the outmanned Buckhorn Wildcats, 98-71, at Memorial Gym.

Napier jumped to a 8-1 lead and Buckhorn never caught up.

The Navajos were in command 16-9 after one period, 44-25 at the half and 82-45 after three frames.

Napier's Gordon Fugate had his best scoring night of the season, as he burned the ropes for 23 points. Wade Hoskins was the only other Navajo in double figures, as he hit 20 points. Albert Combs used 14 men with 11 cracking the scoring column.

Buckhorn had the game's top scorer in Chester Wooton, who hit for 30; Joe Mullins added 18 to the Wildcat cause.

Guy Olinger's unbeaten Napier Freshman had their narrowest call of the season before edging the Buckhorn yearlings, 44-43, as Lawrence Jones topped the young Navajos with 19 points. Olinger's charges are 12-0 for the season, with one contest left.

M. C. Napier cheerleader Doris Fugate was crowned Basketball Queen for the 1963-64 season at halftime of the varsity tilt. Miss Fugate, a junior, was elected by popular vote of the student body.

SHEPPARD AFB, Tex. — Airman First Class Paul Seifried, son of Mrs. Mary Seifried of Hazard, Ky., is being reassigned to Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., following his graduation from the technical training course for United States Air Force communications wiring specialists here.

Airman Seifried was trained to seal, test and maintain communications cables used in the Air Force.

The airman attended Broadway High School, Hazard. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Godwin of Forest Homes, Alabama.

Hindman Yellowjackets Defeat DC Panthers in Overtime Play, 67-61

By: Don Combs

Coach Pearl Combs' Hindman Yellowjackets outlasted the Dilce Combs Panthers of Coach Bill Back, 67-61, in an overtime on February 18.

The first period found Hindman on top by four points, but the Cats cut the Jacket margin to one point, 32-31 at half-time.

Dilce Combs came back strong in the third stanza and led by five points, 48-43, at the close of the period.

However, Hindman found the range and led by four points with three minutes remaining in the game. Dilce battled to within two points, and with two seconds to go, Jimmy Mobilini connected with a basket to tie the game.

In the overtime period, Dilce got the tip but failed to score. Hindman rallied eight points, while Dilce scored two. Hindman came out on top, 67-61.

Missionary's Report From Congo

Irene and Ruth Hege (at our Mangungu station) about 50 miles beyond our Iwungu station had asked Friday when MAF flew over to be evacuated. That night "la jeunesse" (terrorists) attacked them. Ruth had an arm wound and was left for dead. Irene had been hit by an arrow in the throat, pulled it out, took about two steps and collapsed. Ruth was finally airlifted Tuesday, Jan. 28, by helicopter. In the meantime, she'd been captured by "la jeunesse" and later released. Her testimony is a real proof of the Lord's care of His own.

The 28th, we at Iwungu packed a suitcase - ready to leave. We were nine adults and eight children. Bob Grings' brother, Mark, and his sister and her husband and three children, and a single girl had arrived Jan. 10 for a visit. This was "before the trouble" began. Darryl and Louise had gone in to Kikwit for medical help and could not return to Iwungu to be with their children during this time. We at Iwungu could hear the missionary broadcasts between missions and mission stations with transmitter sets, but we had no way of transmitting our situation. So we listened and waited.

The helicopters were slow in getting into action in our area. But we had the Lord's peace, which was wonderful to experience. Jan. 28th, the Catholic priest moved in with us, so we were ten adults and eight children in one house - the big house in which we single girls had been living. Our village chief sent up men from the village to protect us from attacks at night. The village men plus our own Christians guarded the houses every night. We praised the Lord for them. We learned that many of our people are involved in this movement as well, but they did not want anything to happen to us and were guarding against possible attacks from distant groups of roving terrorists.

Jan. 30 - Thurs. Airlifted from Iwungu at 10 a.m. - ten adults, eight children, in three helicopters. One of our second-ary school girls was to go with us since she comes from another tribe and area. She was afraid when she saw the five planes flying overhead, preparing the way for the helicopters checking to see if it were all right for them to come in. The "choppers" were on the ground no more than three minutes. The American Ambassador to Congo, Mr. Edmund A. Gullion, was flying on this operation in his large plane overhead. Upon arrival at Kikwit and learning that the Congolese girl, Elizabeth, had not come with us, two helicopters and air escort went back to get her. It was about 15 minutes travel time by air. A group of about ten of "la jeunesse" had come out of the forest after we left, and our Christian house sentries had tied them up, hands behind their backs, and put them in the sun, and had sent someone for the village chief to tell them what to do with them.

Do pray for our Christians who are not involved in this movement, that Lord willing, their lives may be spared. We were flown to Leo. in the Ambassador's plane. We flew over Iwungu (off the route) and all seemed quiet, and over Idiofa where school buildings were burning. Since arrival in Leo., we have been staying at the United Nations barracks and are very comfortable. They prepare and serve our meals as well.

Feb. 3 - Mon. The last of our missionaries "in the bush", Mr. and Mrs. Elcher from Balaka, were airlifted. There had been no contact with them for more than a week, during which time they were living in the forest in hiding from "la jeunesse." They are now in Kikwit with other of our missionaries, the Angus Brothers, who are still operating our Guest House and serving meals to U. N. pilots and personnel who have been carrying on these air operations.

Pray that the Lord will make plain His will from here on out. Some of our missionaries are about due for furlough and others will be before things are settled enough to go back in. Rev. 3:8 is still true. The Lord can keep the door to Congo. Pray for Congo and its Christians.

Sincerely in Him,
BETTY PARKS
P. S. Friday, February 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Elcher have arrived in Leo. He is our mission legal representative in the Congo. He and his wife will be remaining here in Leo. indefinitely, and perhaps a couple other families, and since it will be a time before we can re-enter our area, others of us will be returning to the States soon.

The Eichers are in good health. Their village people had hid them and fed them for more than a week in the forest. Doubtless, the Lord has something definite to teach us through this experience - three different missions are in the effected area. May we be open and ready to understand and accept His leading.

Thank you all for your prayers. The Lord is good. May He bless you folks there.
In Him,
Betty

Program to Give Counseling and Testing - Training

A new nationwide program to give counseling, testing and training to men who fail to pass the educational tests for military service was launched in Kentucky in February. State Economic Security Commissioner Earle V. Powell said armed forces rejectees will be referred to the 25 local employment service offices by a letter from the State Selective Service Board.

There they will receive extensive counseling to help find and hold the right job, and will be tested for their abilities, he said.

Edward DeShazer, director of the State Employment Service Division said local office personnel will urge all rejectees who are high school dropouts to return to school. Many will be referred to training classes under the Manpower Development and Training Act or the Area Redevelopment Act, he said.

Colonel Everett Stephenson, director of the State Selective Service Board, said nearly one-third of draftees who report to the local boards in Kentucky are rejected because they fail to meet the minimum educational standards.

Kentucky ranks close to the bottom nationally in the number who fail the eighth-grade-level standard Armed Forces intelligence test, he added.

The new program, financed entirely by Federal funds, will send an estimated 600 rejectees a month to the local employment service offices, DeShazer said. At least one person in each office will be named to handle only these cases.

The program will initially include those men who have been rejected by their local Selective Service boards since January 1964. Earlier rejectees will be included later.

Perry Co. Development Assoc. To Meet Feb. 27

Paul Keen — County Agricultural Agent

The Perry County Development Association Meeting will be held at the Kentucky Power Company on Thursday, February 27th at 7:00 P. M. Perry County Development Association Committee Chairmen will make reports on plans for Industrial Development; Agriculture and Conservation; Housing and Health; Education and Youth; Trade and Services; and Government and Finance. Your Development Association has and will continue to make a real contribution to this area.

Ralph Wells, Public Assistance Supervisor, will discuss the Unemployed Fathers Work Program and procedures for setting up local projects.

Walter Prater, Director of Vocational School; Raymond Hogue, Supervisor of Farmers Home Administration; and George Armstrong, Coordinator of EKRD Team, Quicksand, will discuss programs now in operation in Perry County.

Floyd Hall, Chairman of Development Association urges you and your friends to attend this very important meeting. Much progress has been made.

Let's take advantage of many opportunities now available for development of our area. Everyone is invited to attend.

Seed Pastures This Spring: Livestock will harvest good pasture grass and make money. Idle land will cost in taxes and upkeep.

March 1st to March 15th is generally best time to seed grasses and most legumes in spring. Korean Lespedeza should be seeded after April 1. The seed bed should be prepared with lime and fertilizer worked into top four inches of soil. Seed should be covered lightly and land rolled firm after seeding, if possible.

In order to get a good pasture, needed plant food must be applied. The amount of plant food needed can be determined by a soil test. Information on how to take a good soil sample can be obtained from County Agent's Office.

If soil test is not run, apply 40 lbs. nitrogen, 120 lbs. phosphate and 80 lbs. potash per acre. This would be 1000 lbs. 4-12-8 fertilizer per acre. Two or three tons lime should be added per acre if land has not been limed during last 10 years.

Some suggested seed mixtures are:

Kentucky 31 Fescue—15 lbs.
Ladino Clover—1 lb.
Lespedeza—10 lbs.
Orchard Grass—12 lbs.
Kenland Red Clover—8 lbs.
Lespedeza — 8 lbs.
Kentucky 31 Fescue—15 lbs.
Lespedeza — 12 lbs.

Farmers can receive cost share benefits by making application at local Agriculture and Conservation Service Office before seeding is started.

UK Extension Meetings to Begin Tuesday, Feb. 25

Thirty-five persons attended the organization meeting for a farming workshop which is to be held at the Uni University of Kentucky Southeast Community College. The group, made up largely of Harlan Countians, did include people from as far away as Owensboro and Lexington, Ky.

The seminar will be directed by Henry Pope, Area Agriculture Extension Agent from London, Kentucky. Meetings are being planned on the topics: greenhouses, poultry, feeder pigs, livestock, small fruits, and farm financing. Speakers from the University of Kentucky will make presentations and lead discussions on these topics in six weekly meetings which will begin February 25.

Planners of the workshop intend for the meetings to result in more commercial farming activity in the area around Cumberland.

Hazard Man Now Serving On U.S. Hornet

Johnny Delph, hospitalman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Delph of Hazard, Ky., is participating aboard the anti-submarine warfare carrier US S Hornet in a coordinated U. S. Nationalist Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan.

Backpack is an exercise to test the amphibious capabilities and readiness of the forces of the Seventh Fleet and the Nationalist Chinese Navy. The exercise, with over 40,000 men and 140 units participating, will culminate in an amphibious assault on beaches of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate the effectiveness of the United States Seventh Fleet to rapidly move a significant combat force to a troubled area in order to assist an ally.

Prior to the assault, aircraft of the Seventh Fleet will soften beach defenses. In addition, support ships will conduct anti-submarine warfare exercises and the area surrounding the beachhead will be cleared of any obstructions and mines.

"Backpack" is similar to those exercises conducted periodically by units of the Seventh Fleet with SEATO and other allied nations in the Far East to improve their proficiency in coordinated amphibious warfare operations and to maintain working relationships with allied nations.

McIntyre Agrees With Budget Bill

Representative Alexander McIntyre of Hazard agreed with the following minority position taken on the State Budget Bill:

The Republican Party is not against the State Budget Bill. For the most part it received Republican support in the final vote. The Republican Party is, however, against features of the Administration's budget that were withheld from the people of Kentucky, for example:

1. Callous indifference by the Governor to the needs of other State hospitals, retarded children care, and mental health care.
2. Preferential treatment accorded to the few, by department heads, at the expense of the many.
3. The admitted $11,000,000.00 unbalanced feature of the budget.
4. "Back door" financing by additional bond issue to supplement the unbalanced budget.

Old-Fashioned Loyalty Works Best

John L. Beckley, publisher of The Economics Press, Inc., says a question prodded by an executive prompted his company to print a booklet entitled, "Old-Fashioned Loyalty."

The question put before Mr. Beckley asked: "What ever happened to the idea that an employee ought to be loyal to the company which provides him a job?"

"It rarely occurs to people any more," the executive contended.

5. Fiscal irresponsibility demonstrated by totally unrealistic tax income projections. The Governor's refusal to allow further probes into the budget by shutting off amendments from the floor is a clear admission that there are great parts of the budget that are being kept secret from the taxpayer.

The Republican Party will not condone the operation of Government by secrecy and deception. We further believe that the people of the Commonwealth should be accorded the privilege of knowing how their money is being spent.

Perry County Development Ass'n Meeting Set For Feb. 27

Need a new range? ... Make it flameless electric!

Need a clothes dryer? ... Flameless electric models cost less!

Need a new water heater? ... Get a flameless electric one... your average rate will drop immediately!

Need a new heating system? ... Only electricity gives you clean flameless heat!

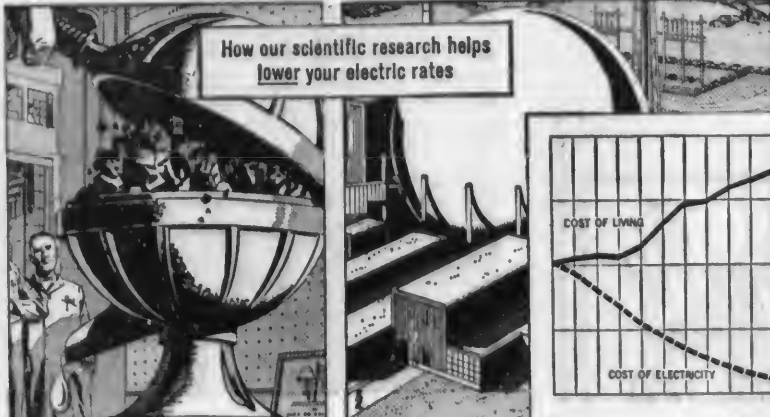

Take the next few steps to "wholesale" electric rates!

An electric appliance such as a clothes dryer may reduce the average cost of operating each of your other appliances!

Everybody knows that it costs less to buy things in wholesale lots. Not everyone knows that electric rates are figured that way too! The more electric servants you have, the lower your rate becomes. Suppose you need a water heater and you choose an electric one... immediately your average cost per kilowatt hour goes down.

Free booklet gives details

This new booklet contains rates as they apply in your case... describes steps to take to get low "wholesale" rates... shows how close you may already be to Total Electric living. For your copy, phone, stop in, or mail coupon. Do it today!

Year by year our research teams succeed in squeezing a little bit more electric juice from every lump of coal. Because coal is economical, it is our chief fuel, and the American Electric Power System, of which this company is a part, uses more than 15 million tons per year. At the same time we are engaged in atomic and other energy-source research. When such a source can produce electricity at lower cost than coal, we will use it.

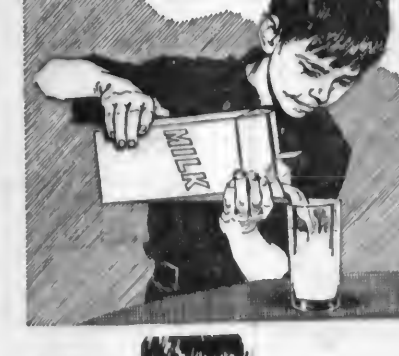

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14%... and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY is a part of the American Electric Power System. This system produces more electricity than any other investor-owned utility in the United States. It serves over 2800 communities in 7 states—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Through coordinated management and operations, progressive engineering and research, the six member companies of AEP bring you low-cost power with greatest dependability.

FOR THE MAN WHO HAS EVERYTHING (well, almost)

Ever feel like getting away from it all and heading for the back country? It's the easiest thing in the world in a 'Jeep' Gladiator with a camper unit. Just pack up your gear for hunting, fishing, skiing, birdwatching, rock hunting or whatever your pleasure may be.

No need to worry about sleeping accommodations, either. They're right with you wherever you go to keep you snug, warm, dry and comfortable regardless of the weather.

And because it's attached to a 'Jeep' Gladiator, you can go wherever you like... places which might previously have been accessible only on foot or on horseback. The unit is removable, too. Whenever you require a workhorse of a pickup truck with a large bed and extra load carrying capacity, you have it.

Sound exciting? It is! It's available in either 2- or 4-wheel drive, in 7- or 8-foot length. Deluxe or standard. Why not see your 'Jeep' dealer today and have a look at the Gladiator with attached camper unit. Maybe you can become the man who has everything. (Well, almost)

In Kentucky... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
